Rooms Already at Premium For Homecoming Game, Dance

Preparations for the Homecoming game and dance, Oct. 19, are already under way. Some alumni have already reserved rooms in Hoosier Inn and Hotel Rensselaer. A check up revealed that there are still 15 rooms available in Hoosier Inn and 30 in Hotel Rensselaer. Any alumnus interested in spending the night of Oct. 19 here is advised to write to one of the hotels for reservations immediately.

Meanwhile, the Pumas are preparing for their return to intercollegiate competition. Seventy candidates reported for practice. This number has already been whittled to 50. It will eventually be cut to four teams.

Five Veterans Return

Five first-string men of the undefeated 1942 team will wear the cardinal and purple again this year. They are: Captain Ted Swierczek, East St. Louis, Ill., right half; George Ellspermann, Evansville, left half; Henry Kauffmann, Louisville, guard; James Buckley, Whiting, end; Tom Scollard, Indianapolis, end. A member of the 1941 undefeated first-string, Ted Nowak, Chicago, guard, is also back in Puma togs.

Other ex-varsity men who have returned are: Roy Czarnecki, Chicago, fullback; Dave Jones, Gary, right half; Henry Knight, Chicago, fullback; John Lucas, Guard; Gerald McCarthy, Chicago, end; Joe Pavletich, Oak Park, Ill., guard; Al Resetar, Whiting, guard; Louis Bernhard, Columbus, Ohio, halfback; John Einsele, Hammond, end; Robert Blanton, Rensselaer, end.

The Homecoming game will be against Indiana State, a team that St. Joe has faced twice in its football history. State won 45 to 0 in 1924; St. Joe retaliated 19 to 7 in 1942.

The Pumas will play two games before homecoming: at Valparaiso, Oct. 5, and at Loras, Oct. 13.

PATERNAL ADVICE is what Bob Zuppke gave Dick Scharf, when the former coach of Illinois was on the campus recently. Zuppke is now advisory coach for the Chicago Bears.

Vincent J. Clark Auditor For U.S.

Working for the Federal Government as an auditor, Vincent J. Clark, '36-'39, was expecting a transfer to another state in the very near future when he wrote from Frankfort, Ky., recently. Originally from R.R. 3, Owensboro Ky., all mail sent there is forwarded to him immediately by his mother.

Vince spent two years in the high school department and his freshman year in the college. Then he went to Bowling Green College of Commerce, Bowling Green, Ky., where he received his bachelor of science degree in accounting in January, 1942. Immediately afterward he enlisted in the Army.

Merits Army Finance School

The Army placed Vince in Army Finance School. After a year he was transferred to the Air Force Officer Candidate School at Miami Beach, Fla., where he was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in March, 1943.

Two assignments in the states followed, one of sixteen months in Washington, D.C. During this time Vince married Miss Ethel Spouse of Roanoke, Va. Two minutes before he boarded a ship for service in Hawaii, Vincent, Jr. was born in Roanoke. The lad was thirteen months old when his father saw him.

In January of this year Vince received his honorable discharge. He was a First Lieutenant. His assignments during service were chiefly administrative.

Steve Stays in Army

Lieut. Steve Theodosis, '38-'42, expects to remain in military service for another year or more. His dog tag bears the number O-20881632. Overseas, he is reached at APO 27192-A, c/o P. O., San Francisco, Calif.

RICHARD BONELLI, Metropolitan Opera star, will present a concert at 8 p. m. Thursday, September 26, at St. Joseph's College.

The American-born baritone has sung such varied roles as Amonasro in "Aida", Figaro in "The Barber of Seville", Tonio in "Pagliacci", Marcello in "Boheme", and the elder Germont in "Traviata."

Bonelli is the first of nine artists who will appear here this season as part of the new college policy to bring outstanding talent from metropolitan areas to smaller communities.

Staff of 52 Leads 600 Students After Sept. 20

A record population of approximately 600 students will be on the St. Joseph's College campus, after the completion of registration September 20.

Freshmen matriculated September 9 and immediately began a two-week orientation program.

With the return of several former faculty members and the addition of six new ones, the college staff now numbers 52. The fourteen members who will supplement last year's faculty are:

Division of Physical Science—The Revs. Urban Siegrist, '25-'28; Boniface Drieling, '26-'31, and Norman Heckman, '31-'35.

Division of Languages and Humanities—The Revs. Gilbert Esser, '12-'18, and Francis McCarthy, '32-'36.

Division of Religion and Philosophy—The Revs. James Birkley, '34-'38; Charles Rueve, '34-'38; Joseph Scheuer, '34-'38; Robert Siebeneck, '35-'39.

The Rev. Gerard Lutkemeier will be assistant librarian, and the Rev. Francis Laudick, '25-'27, will be procurator.

Prodigal Son Thinks Coney Is. Changed

Perhaps hot dogs were more plentiful in those more remote days when the Rev. John Bannon, C.PP.S., lived at 2971 W. 32 St., Coney Island, Brooklyn, N. Y., before preferring the best college in the Hoosier state. Of his summer at St. Matthias Church in his "dear" Brooklyn, he admits:

"It isn't the same place I knew long ago. The inmates made me think what must have been said by the prodigal son of the 'Woman who lived in a shoe'—'Boy, this certainly has been kicked around.' But it was good to spend my off days with my mother, which I think was the Provincial's kind thought in the whole business."

Heart Attack Fatal To Father Schaeper

Ordained to the priesthood June 1, 1918, the Rev. Frederick J. Schaeper, C.PP.S., '05-'12, died of a heart attack, July 30. in St. John's Rectory, Whiting, Ind. He had been engaged in parochial work all of the time since his ordination.

From his first appointment as assistant at St. John's, Glandorf, Ohio, he was promoted to the pastorate of St. James parish, Curtis, Neb., in May, 1921. Two years later he was given the care of St. Anthony's, Wallace, Neb., where he remained twelve years, building a new rectory and attending a mission at Elsie.

From 1935 to 1941, Father Schaeper took care of St. Joseph's, Kildeer, N. Dak., then was transferred to St. Catherine's, Nowata, Okla. His health failed in 1944, a serious heart ailment having developed. He retired to St. Mary's Home, Burkettsville, Ohio, for several months, but feeling sufficiently improved, requested some light work. After a few months at St. Anthony's, Detroit, Mich., he went to Whiting.

Although a second heart attack had threatened the life of Father Schaeper several months ago, he had improved remarkably, so that his death was unexpected. Time between visits to his doctor had been extended from two-week to monthly intervals.

The day before his death, however, he returned from an extended walk rather tired and retired early. Next morning he went about his usual schedule. When lunch was announced he took his place at the table, but left almost immediately to lie down on a couch in the adjoining rom. Ten minutes later he died.

Kilroy Wasn't There. . . .

Frankenstein Setting Reveals

"Even before the days of the ancient pyramids, man sought immortality."

So spake Father John Baechle as we started on a jaunt that was basic training all over again. By taking a devious route he led the way through the towers of the chapel and the towers of the administration building.

On all fours we ascended and descended slippery ramps. In a true Frankenstein setting we swayed on creaking ladders. And over stairways warped, worn, and crooked we carried our conquest.

We were seeking names. We found them all right, dozens of them. An alumni directory could be started by copying down all the autographs found on the walls of the chapel tower rooms. It seems that everybody, except Kilroy, has been there. It was the nature of our search that caused Father Baechle to philosophize about man's striving for immortality.

A study of the walls revealed several schools of thought among those who seek and insecure lease on immortality by inscribing their names in almost inaccessable places. One school of thought is that the home town and the date should follow the signature. For example, John Ryan, Richmond, Ind., Oct. 27, 1915.

Then there is the school that believes in date only, such at T. V. Fettig, Easter, 1913. Running parallel with this is the school that stands for home town only. Exempli gratia—as they were wont to say around Pompeii—Howard Wesner, Fort Wayne, and Lawrence Jacobs, Kenosha, Wis.

The final school of thought, and that which has the most advocates, believes in the absolute simplicity of name only. We copied quite a few of those names and checked their dates in the alumni directory. You might be interested in reading them, especially since you don't have to follow the agile Father Baechle to their source. Here they are:

Walter Steiger, '29-'33; Ed McGinty, '09-'14; Jim Connor, '25-'30; Max Walz, '10-'14; Val Volin, '30-'34; A. G. Koenig, '11-'17; Louis Stock, '26-'31; Isidore McCarthy, '27-'32; Ralph Bihn, '27-'31; Gabriel Brenkus, '25-'26; Urban Landoll, '17-'21; Charles Ridenour, '17-'20; Clement Goubeax, '25-'30; Angus McLeod, '11-'14; George Annen, '11-'14; Ray Guillozet, '25-'30; John Kuhn, '11-'17; Al Meyers, '13-'18.

We started a new school of thought before leaving the west chapel tower. Along with our signatures we scribbled our reason for being there. No one else has done that. Our explanation for future generations: to get a story for CONTACT.

And this is it.

Hankish Home Again

Discharged from military service, Charles Hankish, '38-'42, is back at his home address, 218 S. Main St., Bluffton, Ohio. Thanks to the "Reader of CONTACT" who sent in this information.

Desire for Study Stays Undulled For J. Dougherty

Ten months in the armed service hasn't dulled the desire for learning for John J. Dougherty, '44-'45, who admits to missing school and doing a "lot of reading on the side." John took a summer course at Notre Dame after his year at St. Joe, then answered his call.

"Ever since my induction I have been on the lucky side. I was fortunate to get the chance to go to school for the Air Corps at Scott Field, Ill., to study cryptography. After graduation there I was detailed for overseas, but luckily missed that plane over also. I am now permanent party here. Promoted last month, I was given charge of the POR files of the 78th Base Unit."

A gift to the Indians would be a good way of disposing of Virginia, thinks John.

Tom Anderson Transfers To Haskins & Sells Co., N. Y.

The U.S.S. Fessenden (DE 142) is now only a memory to Thomas M. Anderson, Jr., '36-'40. During the war he rode the "Fessie-Maru," as he calls his ship, with the whole Atlantic as his theatre. Once he acted as protection to the late President, who was returning from Yalta. Tangles with German subs were of frequent occurrence.

When Germany surrendered, Tom left for the Pacific. He was in Pearl Harbor when the Jap capitulation came, but he had been to Eniwetok in the Marshalls, to Majoro, and to Wotje. The latter he helped take over from the Japs who were there. Seventy-eight days at Wotje brought the time to late November, 1945. As Tom expresses what followed:

> "I picked up a plane from Wotje to Kwajalein, and from there to Pearl—got a trip from Pearl to San Francisco on the Saratoga, and a train ride on the Santa Fe to Chicago. I was discharged at Great Lakes with thirty days terminal leave, half of which I spent in Chicago and half in New York, which is my wife's former home."

Until Aug. 30 Tom was employed in Chicago with the Haskins and Sells Co., a C.P.A. firm. At his request he was then transferred to their New York office. (451 Fifty-eighth St., Brooklyn 20, N. Y. is the address for the time being.)

Aloysius Clark Gold-star Hero

Aloysius Clark, "36-'38, whose death was announced in the Aug. issue, is another gold-star hero of World War II. He was in the European Theatre of Operations.

Drafted in March, 1944, Mr. Clark was assigned to the infantry. After only a few months' training he was sent overseas. Soon thereafter his wife received the following communication:

> "Private Louis Aloysius Clark, 101st. Infantry, died Nov. 21, 1944, of wounds received during the advance near Guebling, France. He was buried in the Province of Lorraine, France, after an appropriate service at which a Catholic Chaplain officiated."

Mr. Clark is survived by his wife, four children, four brothers, and four sisters.

Friend of College Dies in Chicago

Always a friend of St. Joseph's, Mr. Bernard F. Sieben, father of Clarence, '21-'23, and Oscar, '21-'25, died at Passavant Hospital, Chicago, Sept. 10. In the past several years he made a number of gifts to the college in the name of the Sieben Corporation of which he was vice-president. One of these gifts alone was valued at well over $1,000.

Mr. Sieben was vice-president also of the Illinois Brewer's Association and a member of the American Society of Refrigerating Engineers.

Three members of the faculty—Fathers C. Staab, C.PP.S., S. H. Ley, C.PP.S., and Joseph Hiller, C.PP.S.—attended the funeral, Sept. 13, at St. Michael's Church, Chicago.

Still in Defiance, Ohio, William H. Bauer, '39-'40, has moved to 408 Meyer St. "I am very grateful for CONTACT," he writes, "for through it I have been able to keep track of some of the fellows I used to know."

500 Bombs Fail Says Fr. Evans

Now assistant national secretary treasurer of the Catholic Students Mission Crusade, the Rev. Ferdinand A. Evans, '26-'28, M. S. S .W., has his office at the Crusade Castle, 5100 Shattuc Ave., Linwood 26, Ohio. He has been back in the states from five and one half years as an army chaplain since Dec. 24, 1945.

In service Father Evans was with the 37th Division. Overseas three and one half years, the South Pacific was his theatre. "I was in seven battles," he writes, "over 500 bombings—105 of them in twenty-five days—and not a scratch." V. J. Day found him on Luzon.

LOUISVILLE.—Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Dentinger, of 1216 Benton Street, observed their golden wedding anniversary this month. Mr. Dentinger, a retired organist, taught music at St. Joseph's from 1901 until 1903. The Dentingers have four sons, two daughters and 19 grandchildren.

John J. Mullen, '40-'42, now resides at 2409 W. Fifth Ave., Gary, Ind.

MSGR. M. M. COADY, at left, was the principal speaker at the School of Rural Living held August 26-28 at St. Joseph's College. As a member of the faculty of St. Francis Xavier University, Antigonish, Nova Scotia, he worked among Canadian fishermen establishing adult education centers and cooperatives. The results captured the attention of educators and economists throughout the world. Shown at right is the Rev. Harold Diller, C.PP.S., '25-'28, director of the School of Rural Living.

Snug in Apartment M.A. is Gay's Goal

Their honeymoon over, Bill and Chris Gay returned via PCA airlines from Cleveland to Detroit, expecting to move into their new apartment. But it had not been vacated. They found a hotel for a week. Now they are situated at 2452 Clifford, Apt. 715, Detroit 1.

Bill continues his weekend broadcasting engagements over WEXL and was offered a part-time teaching position at Lawrence Institution of Technology for the summer, with prospect of full-time teaching when classes are resumed at the opening of the fall term.

A Master's degree from Wayne University is Bill's ambition. He is working on a schedule which will fit in with his other duties.

Principal Reports On Sundry Items

Living at the old family address, 621 Ashland Ave., River Forest, Ill., George Cross, '36-'38, is married and has two sons. Father Leonard Cross, '27-'31, his brother, who supplies the information, adds of his own position as principal of Central Catholic High School, Ft. Wayne.

> "I'm still making transcripts for every grad we ever had—or so it seems."

And of the Collegeville water:

> "You don't really mean the new water system works as well as you say. I'll have to come down and check it."

Yes, Father, sulphur has gone to stay—600 feet down in the well of memories. Shall we call it a "Wishing Well?"

Earl W. Foos, '30-'36, has moved from Shelby, Ohio, to 658 Hamilton Ave., Lorain.

Kozielski Chairman For V.F.W. Dance

If Bill Kozielski, '37-'41, is still apartment hunting since returning from his sojourn in China, he has time to devote to the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Late August report found him chairman for a V.F.W. dance.

Bill is brushing up on his accounting at Loyola University and plans to sit for the C.P.A. examination.

Stay in Line, Sir! Fleming An F.B.I.

Father Albert E. Gordon, C.PP.S., '25-'29, and Ed get together frequently. The former, absent on leave from his teaching duties, is majoring in economics at Catholic University. Bill Ronan, '41-'42, now a student at Georgetown, also meets Ed from time to time.

Bandjough Merits Fellowship at University of Florida

Courses in English at the University of Florida, Gainsville, occupied Ed A. Bandjough, A.B., '38-'42, during the summer. In the first session of the summer semester he covered "The History of the English Language" and "Understanding Poetry"; in the second session, "British Prose and Poetry" and "World Literature."

Although Ed jerked sodas three or four hours each night six nights a week to add to the G.I. allotment, he merited a $600.00 fellowship. At St. Joe four years ago he took his bachelor of arts degree in economics with a minor in English.

When Ed returns to the University of Florida for the fall semester he expects to do some teaching, probably in English composition. Whatever the assignment, he is sure it will be better than jerking sodas.

Only Nell and Baby Preferred

St. Joe always will be first in Ed's affections, excluding, of course, Nellie and baby Bernadette. Listen to his latest: "News of St. Joe in any way, shape, or form never fails to nudge a nostalgic twinge. Odd how that place affects a fellow. I envy you; I saw much of St. Joe's face lifted, and how dearly I would love to be there to watch these newer changes."

Box 176, Wewahitchka, Fla., continues to be the Bandjough domicile address.

MOTHER'S CLUB

St. Joe needs a Mother's Club! The following letter, printed in full, is proof.

Aug. 29. 1946

Dear Editor,

Just a line to tell you how much we enjoy 'Contact.' By 'we' I mean the family. Incidentally, it is now Mr. and Mrs. Bob, Jr. Bob was married in St. Joseph's Church June 5, to Miss Mary Rehwe and, while 'Contact' still comes to our home, you can bet that I always get it to Bob, Jr. promptly.

Our regards to Father Zanolar and to any of the '44 boys who are now back at St. Joe. Keep 'Contact'-ing.

Yours very truly,
Bob's Mother
Mrs. Robert Stadtmiller
391 W. Broadway
Shelbyville, Ind.

In May, '44, at the end of his junior year, Bob left the campus to enter the U. S. Navy.

Lou R. Yugovich Michigan Mentor

Lou R. Yugovich, '41-'43, is making good use of his Bachelor of Science major in physical education since his return from the navy. Ortonville High School, Ortonville, Mich., is his address. To his regret the school has no football program. He will specialize in basketball, beginning practice about the middle of November for the first game, Dec. 6, of an 18-game schedule.

"I have two classes in geography, two of gym, and one in general business. I expect to see quite a few games at Ann Arbor this season—only sixty miles away. But I will be looking through the papers to see how the Pumas are coming. Hope they are undefeated."

From Keewatin, Minn., Lou transferred to St. Joe after two years of college elsewhere. An all-round athlete—basketball center, football tackle and end, track runner, shot put and discus heaver—he did things scholastically cum laude.
